

Digital Arts Dialogue Project Newsletter Nr. 2 AUGUST 2022

What's New?

Currently the partners of the DigiArts project are working on developing the training manual for youth workers on how to integrate Restorative Justice and digital arts into their classrooms and courses, and resolve conflicts and prejudice among youth.

Transnational Project Meeting

In June, the partners met in person in a transnational project meeting in Turin, Italy, hosted by our Italian partner, Liberitutti.

The meeting helped establish the next steps to guarantee a good quality development of activities for youth workers to benefit from in the future!

Upcoming Events

On November 28th-30th, the project is expected to hold a 3 days long transnational training event in Sofia, Bulgaria. This staff training serves as a way to test the quality, impact and content of our activities and to allow for the best possible development!

If you want to know more about this upcoming training and are interested in participating, please contact us via email!
